HENRY W. RANGER

DIES SUDDENLY Noted Artist, With Summer Home at Noank, Expires in New York Studio

Henry Ward Ranger, 58, dean American landscape painters, died suddenly in his studio at 27 West Sixtyseventh stdeet, New York, at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.
Cardiac trouble was the cause of Mr. Ranger's death. He returned to New York from a sanitarium at Watkin's Glen, N. Y., last Thursday, and was in cheerful spirits up to early aftermon as he was about to go for a walk. He Tuesday, when he felt a slight nausea lay down on his bed and in a few moments was dead.

Mr. Ranger's pictures hang in many of the public art galleries of the country including the Metropolitan Art Museum and the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh, as well in many private galleries. His work was greatly ad-mired by the late J. P. Morgan, who had a deep respect for Mr. Ranger powers as a judge of art.

Born in Syracuse, N. Y., Mr. Ranger received his education in the public schools of that city and in Syracuse University. He was self-taught in art. He assimiliated various forms of landscape painting by travel and study in France, England and Holland.

Mr. Ranger and a commer home in Noank and tre shores and hills of Connecticut were the subjects of many of his paintings. While the critics and that the first of the Paragraphs. said that the first of the Ranger paint-ing was untrue to nature, this criti-cism was not often heard after his maturity. His work was generally known for portraying the force rather than the delicacy of nature. Antong his finest pictures are "Plich there Bridge" and "Spring Woods," in the juries.

Metropolitan Museum: "Sheep Pasture," in the Pennsylvania Academy "Top of the Hill," Corcoran Galelry Washington: "Bradbury's Mill Pond No. 2." National Gallery, Washington, Mr. Ranger took gold medels at Charleston in 1902 and in Philadelphia in 1997. His paintings also bang in several museums of Europe. Mrs. L. O. Potter told of the present work of the Home Chapter and their work for Backus hospital. During the past ten years we can all see how the chapter has grown, not only in numbers but in a spiritual way, the working part has followed. Not many sales and suppers have been held. The trustees have carried on the work and spirit of The King's Daughters. The Johnson Home is our home, with the same vital interest, as long as these older ones are here, and on into the future. Our chapter is able to help future. Our chapter is able to help the home in different ways, to bring many comforts. Should our connec tion with it cease our circle must change its name and object. Among the other interests of our circle is that of work for Backus hos-pital. As people of Norwich we have withheld support from it too long. There are many needs coming up, old linen and cotton; the renewal of linen used in such a place; a new X-ray machine. Cannot each circle take up one line of work for the hearital?

TOOK BRASS COLLAR TO SQUARE DAMAGES.

Henry Johnson, Barge Hand, is Now Serving Sentence in County Jail.

Henry Johnson, employed on a barge now tied up at the Marine Iron works wharf in New London, appeared before Judge Colt in police court Wednesday morning charged with the theft of a brass collar from the T. A. Scott company. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to pay a fine of $7 and costs and committed to the county jail for ten days.

Johnson told the court that he took the metal because he wanted to recover the amount of damages incurred by one of Scott's employes when he knocked down the stovepipe attached to the cooking range on the barge.

Accused said that a pound and a half of pork chops, a quantity of griddle cake flour and a pound of butter were spoiled so that they could not be eaten and that the damage to the stovepipe cost him 75 cents to repair. eaten and that the damage to the stovepipe cost him 75 cents to repair. He asked an official of the Scott company to make good his loss, and the latter assured him the matter would be straightened out. When he tired of waiting for an adjustment of his claim, he took the brass collar. Johnson lives on the barge with his wife, who is left in a pitiable state of Johnson lives on the brass collar.

Enjoy life! Your system is filled with an accumulation of bile and bowel poison which keeps you bilious, headachy, dizzy, tongue coated, breath bad and stomach sour—Why don't you get a 10-cent box of Cascarets at the drug store and feel bully. Take Cascarets tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You'll wake up with a clear head, clean tongue, lively step, rosy skin and looking and feeling fit. Mothers can give a whole Cascaret to a sick, cross, billous, feverish child any time—they are harmless—never gripe or sicken.

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

Can Put On Flesh

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Let the scales be the judge. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay-there" fat may be the net result. Sargol aims to charge weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—to give the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food, to prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilative elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and H M.
